Senate Bill Nineteen. This would be dangerous and vicious legislation. Founded in principles of socialism manifested in sovietism. Not alone is the principle wrong putting the State in business in opposition to and competition with its citizens paying the taxes to support government but as well the bill as drawn will prove unworkable. It presents government by bureaucracy run We have too much government by boards now. The fund created if the principle was sound will not likely save the experiment from the financial rocks. Every fundamental tenet of Democracy is violated. Local government in the matter is denied. The state does not want these school buildings. Communities, districts, towns and cities own them, have paid for them out of hard earnings of the citizens. For the State to thus throw its protecting arm around the incompetence of the citizen to handle his own affairs through his local selected authorities and say that only a board at Austin has capacity to handle these matters is a sad commentary by the political arm of the government of the citizen selecting this arm. Private corporations may not undertake this work without at least one hundred thousand capital: here twenty-five thousand is appropriated out of the General Revenue to be refunded out of premiums collected. State Board should have imposed on it either the power or responsibility imposed by this bill. What will happen to a school having a loss when the fund is insufficient to pay. The bill should receive prompt and universal disapproval of House members.

A RESOLUTION

Whereas, The National Farm Relief Board has been organized and is now operating for the relief of the farmers of the United States and,

Whereas, Cotton is bringing on today's market 18 1-2 cents which we believe to be below the cost of production;

Be It Resolved, That we commend the Texas Legislature for the action they took yesterday in petitioning the Farm Relief Board to take immediate action on the price of cotton

Resolved Further, That Georgia is in a similar predicament with the The crop in South State of Texas. Georgia is early. We will be picking cotton in Georgia within the next two weeks. To take the present price for cotton is to sell it below the cost of production. We believe that cotton has been sold by the Georgia farmer below the cost of production. on the average, for the past eight, years. We further believe that that is one of the major factors that has influenced the economic condition of the South.

Resolved Further, That we join with Texas in petitioning the Farm Relief Board to take immediate action on cotton from the states of Georgia, Texas, and the whole cotton growing section of the United States. We earnestly beseech this Board to take such remedial action as will insure the farmer the cost of production with a reasonable profit on this necessary staple, cotton.

Resolved Further, That a copy of this resolution be immediately forwarded to the proper officials of the Farm Relief Board.

Austin, Texas, July 17, 1929. Hon. Barry Miller, Lieutenant Governor.

Hon. W. S. Barron, Speaker, House of Representatives, and Members of the 41st Legislature. Austin, Texas.

Gentlemen: Certain rumors have permeated the capitol with reference to the occurrence of typhoid among the members of the Legislature and legislative employes, some of which year at the three sessions of the legare justified, while others are un-[islature, a sanitary code prepared founded and cannot be supported by epidemiological data. There has also been some criticism on account of the laxity in enforcing health measures and the inauguration of practical control measures. Due to the seriousness of the situation, we are prompted in bringing this matter to your attention.

A check on all state department employes in the capitol indicates that none are down with typhoid, while a survey of the membership of both Houses and their employes reveals that some thirteen are stricken with purported typhoid. This survey further indicates that this personnel has visited other towns in the State, including one community where an epidemic of typhoid now exists. The officials of this town received recommendations from the State Health Department at various times requesting that they make certain corrections. Only a part of these recommendations have been carried out.

A survey of a certain drink stand, which has been incriminated, indicates that there are no carriers of this disease employed at this stand. This stand has been found insanitary at different times but the proprietor of this establishment informed our representatives that permission to conduct his establishment had been granted to him by a previous legislature.

Typhoid not only exists in Austin, but also in a number of towns in the State at this writing. The city officials of one community last week were advised to take certain precautionary measures and our representatives were informed by the city attorney of that city that the State Health Department had very little jurisdiction in the matter and that the measures proposed were not constitutional. Never a week passes but what some community receives recommendations from the Department requesting that they protect their water supply and that they dispose of the community's wastes in a safe manner. Many of these injunctions are not heeded.

During the past, bills have been presented to the legislature which had for their purpose regulation of disease prevention. During this by the State Department of Health was introduced. Until specific authority on control measures is given to the State Department of Health, it is greatly handicapped in its program.

During the current year, not less than three news letters have been sent to the public press of the state warning the citizens upon the necessity of partaking only of protected foods and safe water. Tourists have been warned to take an immunizing treatment against typhoid.

It is true that the State Department of Health is charged with the enforcement of certain so-called nuisances, such as barber shop inspection, but which has a very little public health significance and the enforcement of which is hardly justiflable with the limited personnel of the Department, when greatly more important public health problems confront the state. Criticism has been made about permitting common drinking cups, common towels, inadequate treatment of water, and improper waste disposal. There are no adequate state laws requiring the abatement of these menaces and correction of these conditions.

The rural districts are practically helpless at this time. The malaria reports reaching the office at this time indicate the importance of relief measures. On the other hand, many cities are going forward with a progressive and intelligent program.

These few facts are set forth in this manner simply to give you an insight to only one angle of the state health problems.

Respectfully submitted, J. C. ANDERSON, M. D., State Health Officer.
